

RISING STAR

Based on an Israeli format, new reality series RISING STAR completely reinvents the traditional singing competition by giving the audience the final say on who stays in the competition in real time. Featuring aspiring singers, including solo vocalists, duos, and vocal groups,

RISING STAR sees competitors perform alone behind a giant wall of TV screens. As viewers at home (including Canadians), the judges, and the studio audience vote, competitors see how they're doing in real time. Once the competitors' votes reach a certain level, the screen in front of them slowly rises and a new star is revealed.
